

Anne H. Gauthier

Senior researcher, Netherlands Interdisciplinary Demographic Institute
Director, Generations and Gender Programme
Honourary Professor of Comparative Family Studies, University of Groningen

My academic passion lies in cross-national comparative research with a particular focus on family policies and fertility, transition to adulthood, and parenting and child well-being. Since 2013, I have been directing the Generations and Gender Programme (GGP) and have been working on promoting comparative longitudinal study while also seeking ways to provide the research community with the best data to study the complexity of today's family dynamics and life-course trajectories. For my work, I received the IUSSP-Mattei Dogan Foundation Award for Comparative Research in Demography, from the International Union for the Scientific Study of Population in 2017.

Teaching

Courses taught: Over the years, I have taught courses in the field of family sociology, demography, social policy, and statistics. This includes: Undergraduate level: • Family sociology • World population issues • Social demography • Demographic methods • Family and household demography • Social statistics • Comparative family studies. Graduate level: • Social statistics • Family sociology • European social policy • Families and governments • Comparative research methods • Social dimension of the European Union.

Course evaluation: My course evaluations systematically rank above the departmental and faculty averages. Details are available upon request.

Supervision of theses: Since 1993, I have supervised to completion 3 doctoral theses, 15 master's theses, and 5 undergraduate theses. The complete list of supervised theses appears at the end of this document.

Examination of theses: I have been involved in the examination of various theses at the University of Calgary. I was also external examiner for PhD theses at the following universities: the University of Oxford (in 2007), Radboud Universiteit Nijmegen (Netherlands) (2007), the INRS (Montréal) (2008), the University of Stockholm (January 2010), and the Free University Amsterdam (2012).

Current PhD supervision

- Judith Koops (2015--). Parenthood context in developed countries (co-supervisor: Aat Liefbroer)
- Christoph Bein (2017--). Religiosity and fertility decisions (co-supervisor: Monika Mynarska)
- Rae Lu (2017--). Fertility intentions and realizations in China (co-supervisor: Gert Stulp)
- Damiano Uccheddu (2017--). Health and well-being at older ages (co-supervisors: Nardi Steverink, Tom Emery)
